

DISCLAIMER

The user of the information disclosed by Standard Bank Angola SA, hereinafter referred to as SBAO/Standard Bank Angola, at conferences / press releases, presentations and electronic page of Standard Bank Angola accepts the following terms and conditions, which are independent and do not deviate products and services provided by Standard Bank Angola.

1. If the user is in any way accessing the information provided by Standard Bank Angola, it is considered that the user has read, understood, and accepted these conditions of use, if they were available when accessing the aforementioned information.
2. The information related to the activity of Standard Bank Angola, as well as its products and services, is generic and merely introductory, so that its actual and complete knowledge can only occur, depending on the matter, with the commercial structures or the Communication Department of Standard Bank Angola. In the event of any discrepancy, the information and written documents that may be made available by the Bank structure or the Communications Department of Standard Bank Angola, which are also subject to the present conditions of use, prevail.
3. The content of the disclosures is merely informative, never constituting any solicitation or contractual proposal, namely of purchase, sale or subscription, as well as advice or recommendation to the investment. Analyzes, estimates, projections, probabilities, opinions, comments should not be viewed as substitutes for reflections or decisions that the user must conscientiously make or take. In particular, the user is fully aware that investment in capital markets poses risks.
4. The consultation of information disclosed by Standard Bank Angola does not replace or exempt the consultation of all documents available in the respective commercial distribution channels or the consultation of the documents made available to the public according to the law, namely prospectuses or regulations. Prior to contracting any operation or service, Standard Bank Angola suggests that the client or investor should be advised of all the respective terms and conditions and advised by qualified and experienced professionals.
5. Estimates, projections and probabilities are associated with risk and uncertainty and are subject to imponderables of varying nature, such as the national and international economic environment, policies (e.g. economic) adopted or announced, regulations, competition, interest rates, etc. The information on future results, operations, business plans or management, strategies, financial and management expectations that are not expressed and historically referenced are considered as mere estimates or projections. A profitability or past result does not mean warranty or indication of future performance.
6. Standard Bank Angola will seek to keep up-to-date information regarding its activity. However, Standard Bank Angola reserves the right to update, modify or delete disclosed information, or to block its disclosure to the user, without having to comply with any previous or subsequent communication or warning to the user. Standard Bank Angola is not responsible for transmission errors or technical deficiencies related to information disclosed through telecommunications networks.
7. The Standard Bank Angola, diligently in the sense that the disclosed information is correct and / or correctly elaborated. The use of the information provided is at the user's own risk.
8. All rights, including intellectual property, to the contents (information, tools, graphic designs, logos, components, figures or texts) disclosed are reserved according to the law and therefore not allowed to be reproduced in whole or in part .